EVERY PLAYER NEEDS TO PROVIDE

BALL GLOVE / CLEATS / PANTS / BELT
SLEEVES / SOCKS / PROTECTIVE CUP
BATTING HELMET / UNDERSHIRT
BAT / BATTING GLOVES / BAT BAG

A glove is the one piece of equipment truly required for any and all players. A protective cup is required for all male players starting at Shetland (T-Ball) Level and above. Female players are not required to wear a protective cup.

Cleats are recommended for Shetland Level and required for Pinto and above. Soccer cleats are fine for Shetland Level. Note: while soccer cleats are fine for baseball, baseball cleats ARE NOT allowed in soccer...the toe cleat in baseball cleats is dangerous for 1v1 soccer situations. It is recommended that Pinto Level players and above use proper baseball cleats. The toe cleat and ankle protection in real baseball cleats are helpful for these older levels. Rubber-soled or rubber-cleated shoes are permitted.

Metal cleats are prohibited for all levels below Pony.

Each player is required to have their own baseball batting helmet. The helmet needs to be a proper baseball helmet (not a helmet repurposed from another sport). The use of face masks and jaw guards on protective head gear is not required, but it is recommended for additional safety, especially in our older levels with live pitching. All bats must have the USABat licensing stamp on it to be used in PONY baseball. Tee Ball bats may be used in the Shetland level (typically 24"-26" bats). Regular baseball bats must be used starting in the Pinto level and above (typically 27" to 42" bats). Regardless, the bat must have the USABat licensing stamp. Baseball backpacks are entirely optional, but can be very useful. It's a great way for players to keep their baseball gear organized, both at home and in the dugout. Most baseball backpacks will have a sleeve for a bat, room for a helmet, a separate pocket for cleats, and a hook to allow the backpacks to be hung on a chain link fence.
